REQUEST AND RECOMMENDATION

University of Dayton

Mild to Moderate Intervention Specialist License

Request:

University of Dayton requests approval to offer an undergraduate level program leading to the Ohio Mild to Moderate Intervention Specialist License.

Profile:

University of Dayton is a private, not-for-profit research university affiliated with the Catholic church. The university was founded in 1920 with a specific mission to educate the whole person, linking learning and scholarship with leadership and service. Located in Dayton, Ohio, the university has an enrollment of more than 8,000 undergraduates with nearly 3,000 graduate and professional students.

Accreditation/Authorization:

University of Dayton is accredited by the Higher Learning Commission (HLC) until its next scheduled review in 2018. University of Dayton's educator preparation programs are accredited by National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE) until the next review in 2016.

Background:

University of Dayton is submitting its Limited State Review request to ensure program alignment with Ohio standards and requirements. The program currently holds Specialized Professional Association (SPA) national recognition without conditions, which is a pre-requisite to Limited State Review. Programs leading to the Mild to Moderate Intervention Specialist License are valid for providing intervention to kindergarten through grade 12 students with mild to moderate disabilities. University of Dayton offers the Mild to Moderate Intervention Specialist License at the undergraduate level.

Recommendation:

University of Dayton's Mild to Moderate Intervention Specialist License preparation program meets the Chancellor's requirements for program approval and the State Board of Education's minimum standards for undergraduate level programs leading to the Mild to Moderate Intervention Specialist License. Approval is recommended for University of Dayton's undergraduate level program leading to Mild to Moderate Intervention Specialist License until the spring 2022 review cycle. It should be noted that the program is subject to periodic review by the Chancellor to ensure that the standards for Ohio licensure continue to be met.
