REQUEST AND RECOMMENDATION

Wright State University

Curriculum, Instruction and Professional Development License

Request:

Wright State University requests approval to offer a graduate level program leading to the Ohio Curriculum, Instruction and Professional Development License.

Profile:

Wright State University is a public university founded in 1967 with a specific mission to achieve learning outcomes through innovative, high quality programs for all students, conduct scholarly research and creative endeavors and to engage in significant community service. Located in Dayton, Ohio, the university has an enrollment of more than 13,000 undergraduate and over 3,000 graduate students.

Accreditation/Authorization:

Wright State University is accredited by the Higher Learning Commission of the North Central Association (HLC) until its next scheduled review in 2015. Wright State University's educator preparation programs are accredited by National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE) until the next review in 2015.

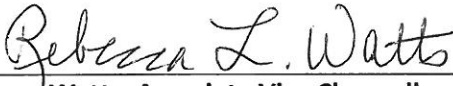

Background:

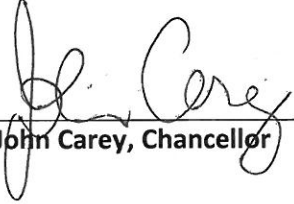

Wright State University is submitting its request to ensure program alignment with Ohio standards and requirements. The program leads to an administrative specialization for licensed teachers seeking positions in providing leadership for the development of curriculum, instructional improvement, and professional development opportunities for educators. Wright State University offers the Curriculum, Instruction and Professional Development program at the graduate level.

Recommendation:

Wright State University's Curriculum, Instruction and Professional Development License preparation program meets the Chancellor's requirements for program approval and the State Board of Education's minimum standards for graduate level programs leading to the Curriculum, Instruction and Professional Development License. Approval is recommended for Wright State University's graduate level program leading to Curriculum, Instruction and Professional Development License until the fall 2021 review cycle. It should be noted that the program is subject to periodic review by the Chancellor to ensure that the standards for Ohio licensure continue to be met.
