SPECIAL NOTES

Students with plans of pursuing a pre-professional or graduate studies track in the future should work closely with their academic advisor and receiving institution starting in the first year of their program in order to adequately prepare themselves for those types of tracks. Some pre-professional degrees include pre-medicine, pre-veterinary, pre-law, and pre-dentistry.

The following additional coursework will be required to complete the Bachelor of Science in Geology degree at Kent State University after a student has completed an Associate of Science Ohio Guaranteed Geology Transfer Pathway degree. Kent State University also offers an optional concentration in Environmental Geology as well as a Bachelor of Arts in Geology. Please refer to the last page of this document for more information about the optional concentration and the Bachelor of Arts. Some bachelor-degree granting programs may be competitive and admission into the program is not guaranteed. Students should check with individual institutions for their program admission requirements.

Geology
Bachelor of Science

Effective beginning Academic Year 2019-20 (Last revised August 20, 2020)

The Geology major includes the Environmental Geology optional concentration. The Environmental Geology optional concentration provides students with specialized training for careers in the well-established and growing field of environmental geology, including water resources, resource management and energy resources. The concentration's curriculum focuses on hydrology, hydrogeology, engineering geology and environmental monitoring techniques.

Additional requirements for the Environmental Geology concentration include:

- GEOL 32066 Geomorphology (4 cr.)
- GEOL 42069 Hydrogeochemistry or GEOL 43040 Principles of Geochemistry, or GEOL 43042 Environmental Geochemistry (3 cr.)
- Environmental Geology Concentration Electives (9-10 cr.)

Kent State University also offers a Bachelor of Arts degree in Geology. The BA in Geology prepares graduates for employment in a wide variety of careers where an understanding of the natural sciences is useful or critical for success. Students interested in the BA will need to complete different required courses. Interested students should contact pathways@kent.edu.
