Date: October 11, 2013

Subject: Ohio Foreign Language Summit

---

You are invited to send a team of faculty from your institution to the Ohio Foreign Language Summit on November 7, 2013 from 9:30am-1:00pm. Administrators who focus on curricular matters (deans/associate deans, department/division chairs) are also invited. The Ohio Foreign Language Association, the Foreign Language Center of The Ohio State University, and the Modern Languages Department of Columbus State Community College, along with the Ohio Articulation and Transfer Network, will be hosting the summit at the Center for Workforce Development on the Columbus State Community College campus.

The purpose of the summit is to discuss and learn about the expected national standards for the foreign language profession and Ohio's development of statewide learning outcomes for beginning and intermediate foreign language courses. The Ohio Articulation and Transfer Network's Oversight Board made the initial request for the investigation and development of statewide learning outcomes for foreign language courses. Dr. Deborah Robinson and Dr. Janice Macián, two faculty lead experts, completed the up-front intelligence research, and a group of statewide faculty panel experts have made a recommendation in support of the proposed learning outcomes.

Questions regarding the content of the summit and appropriate participants should be directed to Hideo Tsuchida, Director of Articulation and Transfer Policy at htsuchida@regents.state.oh.us or (614) 644-0642.

Please assemble your institution's team of faculty and administrators with no more than three representatives from the following examples (participants may be selected from multiple groups below):

- Faculty who teach beginning and intermediate foreign language courses
- Foreign Language/Modern Language Department Chair
- Faculty who are responsible for curriculum development in foreign language areas
