College Credit for Military Coursework,
Training, and Experience

If you have served in the U.S. Armed Forces or National Guard, your training and experience may translate to college credit. All training and experience must first be recognized by the American Council on Education or a regional accrediting body, such as the Higher Learning Commission, in order to be eligible to earn college credit.

OHIO'S COMMITMENT

Although a statewide alignment policy for College-Level Examination Programs has yet to be adopted, the University System of Ohio is committed to the acceptance and awarding of college credit for CLEP, and for training, experience, and coursework in the United States Armed Forces or National Guard, provided the training, experience, and coursework have been recognized by the American Council on Education or a regional accrediting body.
