If you have served in the U.S. Armed Forces or National Guard, your training and experience may translate to college credit. All training, experience, and coursework must first be recognized by the American Council on Education or a regional accrediting body, such as the Higher Learning Commission or a regional accrediting body recognized by the American Council on Education, prior to being accepted and awarded college credit.

Although a statewide alignment policy for College-Level Examination Programs has yet to be adopted by the University System of Ohio, the University System of Ohio is committed to the acceptance and awarding of college credit for military coursework, training, and experience provided the training, experience, and coursework have been recognized by the American Council on Education or a regional accrediting body.
