

OSS050 – RACE AND ETHNICITY

Credit Hour Recommendation: 3 Semester Hours
Prerequisites: None
Related TAG: Sociology
General Course Description: Sociological exploration of American racial and ethnic groups. Emphasis placed on the social construction of race and ethnicity, patterns of intergroup contact. Historical comparative analysis of selected groups with emphasis on economic, political and structural inequalities.
Student Learning Outcomes marked with an asterisk (*) are essential and must be met.
Students should be able to:
1. Demonstrate an understanding of the distinction between social differentiation and social stratification.*
2. Demonstrate an understanding of the social construction of privilege and inequality by race and ethnicity throughout the history of the United States.*
3. Demonstrate an understanding of the sociological perspective and theories of racial and ethnic group relationships in the United States.*
4. Demonstrate an understanding of the variability in the experiences of selected racial and ethnic groups, as well as migration patterns and behaviors in the United States.*
5. Demonstrate an understanding of the changing nature of societal reactions to and intersectionality of racial and ethnic diversity.*
6. Demonstrate an understanding of the impact of prejudices, stereotypes, discrimination, racism, and media representations on racial and ethnic groups.*
7. Demonstrate an understanding of the social, economic, and political implications of changing national and global demographics.*

SOCIOLOGY TAG: RACE AND ETHNICITY TAG COURSE
FACULTY PARTICIPANTS
September-December 2016

Name	Institution
Dona Fletcher (Lead)	Sinclair College
Kwaku Obosu-Mensah	Lorain County Community College
Ron Bulanda	Miami University
Sean Dunne	Shawnee State University
Daysha Lawrence	Stark State College
Janette Dill	The University of Akron
Gregory Rocheleau	Youngstown State University